

PhD Felipe Vilá González

Felipe Vilá is the Chief Executive Officer of Corporación Mexicana de Inversiones de Capital, S.A. de C.V., also known as “Fondo de Fondos” (“Fund of Funds”) since 2009. Fondo de Fondos is an investment vehicle created by four Mexican development banks (Nacional Financiera, Focir, Bancomext and Banobras). Fondo de Fondos manages commitments of more than 787 million dollar in 66 private equity funds (mainly growth capital and venture capital strategies), with accumulated participation in more than 435 companies in Mexico and Latin America.

Felipe has more than 20 years of experience in the financial industry, including project finance, mergers and acquisitions, privatizations and capital markets. During its experience in project finance, he has been responsible of bids from international and national consortiums on projects of power generation centrals, high ways, ports, water treatment plants, water distribution reds, and other infrastructure projects. Additionally, Felipe leded investment teams responsible for the privatization of more than 100 government owned companies and participated in more than 20 mergers in Mexico, Colombia and Venezuela, as well as acquisitions of various companies in Mexico.

Before joining in Fondo de Fondos in 2009, Felipe was Head of the HSBC Investment Bank and CEO of HSBC Securities in Mexico.

Previously, he assumed various C-level positions, between others:

- Head of investment projects, Fonlyser, Banca Serfin.
- Head of economic analysis, Mexican presidency.
- CEO, CESTUR, ministry of tourism.
- Economic assessor of the ministry of tourism,
- Vice-president of projects INEGI, ministry of budget.

Felipe is a Mexican Citizen. He speaks fluently English and Spanish. He has a bachelor’s degree in Economic and a master in administration (Universidad Autónoma de Guadalajara, Mexico), and he obtained a PhD in Economy from the Texas University (Austin, USA). He regularly participates as panelist in many Private Equity and Venture Capital events in Mexico and Latin America.